

Benefits for the Terminally Ill

Who is this course for?

Are you caring for someone who is terminally ill? Do you support the families of people who are terminally ill? Or are you working with people in the community or in a hospice?

Aim

This half-day course will focus on benefits available to people who are terminally ill, and the benefits that are available to their families.

Objectives

By the end of the course, participants will:

- Be able to identify which benefits are available to people who are terminally ill, and their carers
- Be aware of the backdating rules for these benefits
- Be aware of the rules around claiming benefits and continuing to work
- Be aware of benefits available to family members after a death
